"Sanatogen fixed up my Nerves by improving my Digestion"

It happens every day, people who wonder why they are so easily fatigued out, discover that their digestion is at fault—and that Sanatogen is just the thing for such a condition. For nervousness begets poor digestion and poor digestion begets nervousness—and Sanatogen begins nervousness and ends digestion. Sanatogen not only feeds the impoverished cells and nerve-tissues the protein and organic phosphorus they must have for healthy action, but helps the stomach itself take more of these same, nerve-building, hunger-satisfying elements from your regular food.

When you consider the grateful testimony of the many, many famous people who have been helped to better health by Sanatogen—and the fact that no less than 19,000 physicians have felt obliged, after watching the reinforcing effect of Sanatogen, to endorse it in writing—do YOU see a real thing you need?

Sanatogen is sold by good druggists everywhere, in three sizes from $1.00 up.

L. A. Firm Closes Deal
for Stock

A deal has just been made whereby the Palace Clothing Co., 222 South Spring st., the city, corner the possession of the entire stock of men's and boys' clothing of Bluff Bros. of San Pedro.

This well-known firm has been in business in San Pedro for years, but recently were forced to make an assignment of their stock for the benefit of creditors.

The Palace Clothing Co. was fortunate enough to secure this high-grade stock of men's and boys' clothing from the creditors at 50c on the $1—10 business price.

An examination of the garments while taking inventory, showed them to be unusually fine. The men and boys of Los Angeles will now have a chance to secure the best values in suits at prices as low as they simply cannot resist the temptation to buy.

ever, if you write them on your own letterheads. The sooner this appeal is made the greater effect it will have on the politicians who have caused the loss of prosperity.

"I enclosed find a list of names and addresses to whom the letter should be sent, but we omit the names of the Representatives and Senators from your State, with whom you are no doubt familiar."

FORM LETTER IN PART.
In part, the form letter which was presented for transmission to public officials was as follows:

"We respectfully appeal to your sense of justice, and ask in the name of the suffering American people, in the name of common sense, why must we be harassed by this business at this juncture when it is struggling for its very existence?"

"Why throw more thousands of men idle when so many families are already starving?"

"Such a determination to any experimental legislation now, when it is not prosperous? Postpone it. Drastic action on your part is a peril at this time. What we need is a little building up—no more tearing down. We have had a sufficiency of experimental legislation for the present."

"The granting of the petition of the eastern railroads for a 5 per cent. credit increase will do more for the prosperity and development of the country than all legislation against unlawful restraint and monopolies."

"Each a determination will result in a movement forward, not backward, any contrary determination by the Interstate Commerce Commission will be a hindrance to the progress of the country."

"The continued senseless attacks by governmental bodies upon railroad, industrial and mercantile corporations, revision of the tariff and currency reform have resulted in sinking business to such an extent that it has thrown hundreds of thousands out of employment, reduced wages and decreased values in railroad industries and mercantile corporations."

"The most serious situation that confronts the country today is that unemployment is growing more acute. We need relief. We ask the Congress to take action at once. Postpone all anti-business legislation. Give the country a rest, and, last but not least, let the Congress earn a well-deserved early rest."

A prepared telegram much to the same effect, but in condensed terms, was attached.

THE SIMMONS LETTER.
The Simmons letter declared that the three things which stood in the way of prosperity were the Mexican situation, the tariff and the advance in freight rates, and continued hostile business in Congress. It said in part:

"Especially do we recommend that no further attempt at legislation on the matter of control of business or of passing of anti-trust laws should be continued at this time. What the country needs more now than anything else is a quiet time—an absolute rest from the agitation of politics and assaults upon business—it does not make any difference whether it is big business or little business."

"We therefore strongly recommend and earnestly hope that Congress may be convinced that they have done enough law-making for the present; that the country is tired and surfeited with political agitation, and that the agitation now of the control of business is exceedingly injurious, and will serve to retard an improvement in business which otherwise would be very great and rapid—bringing in the most desirable way to the greatest number."

"We submit these arguments and reasons to you, asking you and praying you to use your best influence in following the lines suggested in this communication, viz: To have Congress shut up and go home."

WASHINGTON, June 15.—Another suffragette march on the White House is being planned as the result of the endorsement of the Federal Suffragette Club by Women's Clubs of Chicago.

WASHINGTON, June 15.—The leaders here have entrusted to Mrs. Wiley the work of selecting the members of the deputation which they plan shall be composed of several hundred representative club women from all the States.

WISHES CONGRESS WOULD GO HOME.

(BY A. P. DAY WEEK.)
ST. LOUIS, June 15.—E. C. Simmons today denied the letter from the Simmons Hardware Company regarding the trust legislation was the cause of his decision to serve on the Federal reserve board.

"In fact," said Simmons, "I refused the place long before that letter was written. The letter was written after I was asked by a man whom I was assured spoke with authority, if I would accept a place on the reserve board if it were offered. I said: 'No.'"

The full text of the Simmons' trust legislation letter was printed here today. The letter, which is signed "Simmons Hardware Company," says there are three things on which the business of the country is waiting. One is the wheat harvest. It is said; the second is the settlement of the Mexican situation.

"The last but not least," continues the letter, "is the advance in freight rates to the railroad, a matter of exceeding great importance, but coupled with these three matters is another one of equally great importance. We believe to the best interests of this country and that of the world, that Congress should adjourn and go home."

"Especially do we recommend that no further attempt at legislation on the matter of control of business or of passing of anti-trust laws should be continued at this time. What the country needs more now than anything else is a quiet time—an absolute rest from the agitation of politics and assaults upon business—it does not make any difference whether it is big business or little business."

"We therefore strongly recommend and earnestly hope Congress may be convinced that they have done enough law-making for the present, and that agitation now of the control of business is exceedingly injurious and will serve to retard an improvement in business which otherwise would be very great and rapid, bringing in the most desirable way the greatest good to the greatest number."

"We submit these arguments and reasons to you, asking you and praying you to use your best influence in following the lines suggested in this communication, viz: To have Congress shut up and go home."

WASHINGTON, June 15.—Leaders among the Senate Democrats gathered at the White House tonight to talk with President Wilson about the legislation the administration wants to go through before Congress adjourns.

The anti-trust bills passed by the House, or legislation similar in a general way, are the only measures on which the Senate is inclined upon the President's side.

The President told the Senators who included the members of the Democratic steering committee, and this time, what he said was a little building up—no more tearing down. We have had a sufficiency of experimental legislation for the present.

The granting of the petition of the eastern railroads for a 5 per cent. credit increase will do more for the prosperity and development of the country than all legislation against unlawful restraint and monopolies.

Each a determination will result in a movement forward, not backward, any contrary determination by the Interstate Commerce Commission will be a hindrance to the progress of the country.

STOP FIGHTING.
THE ULTIMATUM

Otherwise Carranza Is Barred from Peace Conference.

Washington Admits a Crisis
Delays the Mediators.

But Bryan and Wilson Have Not Abandoned Hope.

(BY A. P. MORTIMER WIRE)
WASHINGTON, June 15.—Official of the Washington government had hesitancy in admitting that there was a crisis in the Mexican mediation conference at Niagara falls over the selection of men to represent the proposed provisional government to succeed the Huerta regime.

Administration officials, however,
still seemed confident that conditions presented would be met and that hope for peace in Mexico was by no means abandoned.

Word came from Niagara Falls that the South American mediators had replied to the request from Gen. Carranza, chief of the Mexican Constitutionalists, that they try to send delegates to the peace conference, would be accepted on the condition that he agree to cess hostilities against the Huerta government. That Carranza was not assent to such a condition has been repeatedly asserted by him. His development, therefore, caused the change in the diplomatic situation to be far as the United States was concerned.

It was stated in official quarters that the United States had been placing in its dealings with the mediators at Niagara Falls in the past that there could be no success in the Mexican problem unless the arring factions there could be brought to terms.

Developments in the Mexican internal conflict during the last few months, it was pointed out, made it evident that the Huerta government could not survive, irrespective of mediation, and that there could be no provisional government worthy of the name which did not recognize the revolutionists.

With this position as a basis, it was stated that the Washington government suggested, through its representatives at Niagara Falls, the names of several men for provisional president of Mexico who would be acceptable to the revolutionary army the republic. Among these names were those of Gen. Huerta, Gen.
Lascruain, and Gen. Carranza. The representatives of Gen. Huerta at the peace conference have not accepted any of these men and have insisted in turn men who have been identified with the Constitutionalist movement. These names have been acceptable to the Huerta side, so far as can be learned in Washington.

While this situation would seem to precipitate a deadlock, it was reported here that the Huerta government were prepared to suggest the name of a man as a compromise candidate for the provisional Presidency that in any event, they would take the initiative in breaking the deadlock.

According to this report, the representatives of the Mexican delegation here serve to suggest to Gen. Carranza names, who has not been found with the Huerta regime. It is dominant during the administration of the former President, but has been active in Mexican politics.

Representatives of the Huerta government in Washington, among them
Charles A. Towne, a New York lawyer, have asserted that the Huerta delegates would not accept a Constitutionalist for the President. They who have been seeking with President Wilson in the position of the Mexican government with relation to the status of affairs. At the time it was stated that there was no such conference. Mr. Towne might said he would see Carranza tomorrow.

FEDERALS STRONG
AT ZACATECAS

(BY A. P. MORTIMER WIRE)
ZACATECAS, (Coahuila, Mex.) June 15.—
Fighting in the city proper is continued by Constitutionalists who who were prepared to fight against Carranza with the view of the assault on the city. As yet the assault has not been proved unsuccessful.
The city is located in a valley and the city would find itself in either side would find itself in a predicament should it come itself without possession of the mountains and other communications about the town.
The elevations cut off the Federal army retreat cut off the retreat to defend to them, and the action taken by a number of men have a large number of Constitutionalist officers have the fighting around Zacatecas become the bloodiest that has occurred here since the is understood here that the attempts to prevent the entry of the Federal forces have not been successful. The last few days that during the last few days
the Federal force has been augmented to about 1000 men.

ENTIRELY WELCOME.
Harrison Hunter is finding a warm welcome back to Los Angeles after several months of absence. He will go back to work for the Burbank, where he has long been an idol. We warn you, girls, the gentleman is married.

A PREDICTION.
All our natural optimism rebels against a sour perspective, but our outlook for Gen. Villa is not quite pleasant. We imagine that they will let him become the military head of Mexico until the country gets quiet and then he will get a knife in the back.

GERTRUDE ATHERTON'S DIAGNOSIS.
Gertrude Atherton has turned physician, who, it is to be hoped, will succeed in healing herself. She has diagnosed American fiction as cheap, trashy, stilted and sentimental. It is a pleasure to know that one of the leading contributors to contemporary fiction has found out what ails her stuff.

SUSPICION AN EVIL.
Never forget the kinship of the difference between the two words suspicious and apprehensive. The one is blind and foolish, the other wise and protecting. The apprehensive man is a serpent and will devour him. The suspicious man will find himself in a narrow world that soon becomes a little private hell.

HAS ENGLAND BEEN APPEASED?
England's refusal to exhibit at the San Francisco fair is thought to have been induced by the Panama Canal controversy. But now that our Congress, belonging to the party whose heraldic device is the donkey rampant, has given the big ditch to the British merchants for their personal use, is it not possible that England may recede her selfish policy and be affable enough to send over an exhibit or two for the Panama-Pacific Exhibition?

EXERCISING IN BED.
Senator Tillman boasts that he is 65 years of age and that he has kept himself alive for four years after his obituary was written by a system "embracing daily exercises in bed." He did not state what the "embracing exercises" were. It is to be hoped that they were of a character of which his pastor, his family and his friends would approve. If he could prolong his life four years by "exercising in bed" what result of longevity might he not secure by exercising with an axe at the woodpile? And if he made it eight years, would not Methuselah be a baby compared with him.

FIFTY-EIGHT-DAY JUDGES.
Holy Hiram's Legislature was so busy creating commissions and appropriating $2000 to give Johnson's pets a junketing trip to Europe to find out as much about rural credits as could be gathered from a 25-cent pamphlet, and enacting laws to meddle and muddle with everybody's business, that they blundered with the State election law so that judicial candidates who do not change their plans in circulating nominating petitions may be elected for fifty-eight days instead of six years.

Yet Hiram signed the law. He would sign anything except a check on his private bank account for personal expenses which he could procure to be paid out of the State treasury.

THE FAULTS OF SHAKESPEARE.
Several years ago a gentleman by the name of George Bernard Shaw "calumniated" Shakespeare's works for the purpose of attracting attention to himself. He got the attention. Since that time there has developed what may almost be called a cult, the principal tenet of which is to damn the famous for the fame it brings the insignificant. There has now come to light a Parisian litterateur with the name of Georges Pellissier, who has made a study of Shakespeare's works. From out the illimitable depths of Pellissier's penetration he brings to light the information that the Bard of Avon was a "great poet, but a poor dramatist." True, on the modern stage Shakespeare's technique doesn't amount to much, but unfortunately for admiration of Mr. Pellissier's criticism, that dramatic technique served the purpose very well for the Elizabethan stage.

ABDICATION OF WILSON?

Dispatches from Washington indicate that President Wilson is inclined to share his authority with one Samuel Gompers. Up until recently it was understood, or at least the effort was made by Mr. Wilson to have it appear, that he dominated Congress absolutely. But now we find Gompers saying what discriminating legislation shall be enacted for the greater glory of the Gompers brand of unionism, and Mr. Wilson has proceeded to comply. Why shouldn't the thieves of the nation organize and tell the Democratic administration that they will support the Jeffersonian party in 1916 if laws are enacted to prevent stealing, with the provision that all thieves belonging to the organization are exempted? It is exactly the same principle as that upon which Gompers is acting—and, apparently, acting successfully. Congress has, at great trouble, formulated laws intended to prevent conspiracy in the nation, but now proposes to exempt the unions from the punitive and restraining effects of those conspiracy measures.

THE MACHINATIONS OF MARK.
War exists or is threatened practically all over the earth. There are few nations of importance which are not affected to a degree that alarms their statesmen by the hostilities of other countries. The Hague, with its utopian arbitration policies—desirable, but hopelessly ineffectual at present—has no more apparent influence than if practically every country of importance was not officially represented in the Permanent Administrative Tribunal which is maintained to assist in the arbitration of portentous difficulties between nations.

The Mexican situation has loomed like a mountain on our horizon, obscuring to a certain degree interest in the militant affairs in other parts of the world. Some consideration has been given the Ulster rebellion—bloodless as yet, but scarcely likely to remain so—because the appalling spectacle of a few Irish counties defying the British empire cannot easily be ignored. But, generally speaking, few people realize that China is in the throes of a series of disintegrated revolts analogous to those that have harassed Mexico for years. The situation in the Balkans resembles peace only because no large armies are in the field; the nations continue to fight among themselves through the medium of bandit armies, pillaging, slaughtering and fighting with all of the brutality and none of the rules of actual warfare. King William, whom the allied powers of Europe set on the throne of the newly-created principality of Albania, is at present battling for his life against the rebellious peasants, believed to be instigated by the Balkan States. It is the opinion of many conversant with the Albanian situation that nothing less than another intervention of the powers of Europe can save William from being pulled down from his throne and perhaps murdered.

It is too soon to say that mediation in Mexican affairs will prove futile; but there is every indication that such mediation, along the lines now undertaken, will not accomplish much. Huerta has flatly refused to abdicate without "terms"; Zapata has flatly refused to quit fighting, and Villa and Carranza continue to attack the Federal forces when the opportunity seems favorable. The lull in hostilities has not been total, and as all factions, including President Wilson's, continue obdurate in their demands, it does not at present seem likely that Niagara Falls will restore peace and order to the Mexican republic.

The uprising in Ulster is perhaps as ominous as any militant demonstration that is now being made. It is hardly probable that the Ulster leaders are so unconcerned with the dogged stubbornness of the British as to believe that 100,000 rebels can bluff the empire into the retraction of a policy; and so it seems established that Ulster will fight to prevent being subjected to the Irish Home Rule Bill. There is no question but that patriots rallying around Belfast are prepared for battle; they are heavily armed and are drilling. Based on the opinion on the attitude that the English government has always maintained toward rebellious provinces, there also seems no question but that the government will eventually move against Ulster, for neither country appears inclined to accept any form of mediation that does not grant the irrevocable demands of the conflicting parties.

In China a soldier bandit known as "White Wolf" is the most conspicuous of the rebels. He has successfully defeated every army sent against him by President Yuan Shi Kai. "White Wolf" is even more formidable in his operations, though not so menacing to the country's capital, than Zapata or Villa in Mexico. During the past year he has plundered a score of fortified cities and innumerable villages that he has taken to the path of his march. His identity is suspected, but unknown. It is thought that he served with the revolutionists against the Manchus, and finding that peace would end the profits of war, began hostilities of his own, and it is known that he has gathered to his banner the most lawless and ferocious men in the new republic. His depredations are proclaimed as indiscriminate, and comparable only to the ravages of the Huns who descended upon the Roman empire. Upon forcing entrance into a city the soldiers are allowed the utmost license, murdering, plundering and outraging with no limits but the depths of their brutality.

Nor is "White Wolf" the only rebel threatening the solidarity of China's government. Bandit bands are numerous, and the Young China party, as well, is known to be encouraging rebellion, presumably in the belief that Yuan Shi Kai is scarcely better as a President than the Manchus were as tyrants.

It is difficult to speak specifically of the pseudo armies that are fighting and have been fighting for some time in the Balkans. The so-called peace that was established through the interference of the European powers never existed except in name. One of the principal causes of the Balkan War was the inability of the Turkish government to suppress the disorders among the Albanian tribesmen, and from the beginning it was obvious that Montenegro, Serbia and Greece intended to wrest Albania from Turkey and divide it among themselves. For that reason it seemed desirable to the European powers to remove the cause of conflict by setting up Albania as an independent State. Prince William of Wied, a relative of Carmen Sylva, the Queen of Rumania, was chosen as the King of Albania and ascended the throne last January. Within a few weeks after his arrival hands of peasants openly revolted, and the dispatches now state that King William is entirely surrounded and fighting for his life.

THROW THEM INTO THE DISCARD.

To your tents, O Israel! It matters not whether you voted for Taft or Roosevelt, or Wilson, or Debs. You are an American, are you not? Then, if you have warm blood in your veins, let your patriotism thrust your previous political partisanship into the background and stand by your country.

Those few Republicans who voted for the surrender to Great Britain of control of the Panama Canal were recent to the principles of Lincoln, of Grant and of McKinley. Those Democrats who voted for the war were recent to the principles of Jefferson, of Monroe and of Jackson.

Underwood and Champ Clark and the few brave Democrats who with them withstood the bribery of Presidential patronage and stood by the honor and the rights of their country should be indorsed by the unanimous voice of their constituents.

Those Republicans who yielded to Wilson's blandishments and voted for the infamous repeal bill should, along with Key Pittman and Mark Smith, who betrayed the interests of Nevada and Arizona, be re-mitted to the seclusion of defeat.

Our autocratic President, his Senatorial bootlickers and his Congressional flunkies, seem to have had an especial spite against any revival of the American merchant marine. They not only repealed the Panama Free Trade Bill, they voted against a law granting preferential duties to goods imported in American ships, and they opposed reciprocity which would have given us a market abroad for our products in return for our opening our market to foreign products.

Every Democratic and every Republican Congressman or Senator who has proved unfaithful to his country at the behest of the self-sufficient pusillanimous, watchful-waiting academicians who betrayed the land for fear of Great Britain or for railroad money, ought to be, and, if there is courage and patriotism in the hearts of the American people, will be, at the coming election, tossed into the scrap heap of politics.

More unwise and unpatriotic legislation is to be accomplished, if Wilson has his way, before Congress adjourns. The trusts—good, bad and indifferent—are to be busted, the Philippines are to be given up and Admiral Dewey's portrait taken down from the wall of the Capitol and stored in the cellar, the railroads placed in the hands of receivers and all forms of big business remitted to everlasting smash.

NOT ANTI-TRUST; ANTI-BUSINESS.

United States Senators who are committed to a "whole-hog" policy in respect to the President's anti-trust programme, are said to contemplate attempts to make the one anti-trust bill which the Interstate Commerce Committee has reported out carry the provisions of the other two if they are not reported. They are planning, so report has it, to offer the others as amendments to the one before the Senate.

But such a plan is likely to fail if it is attempted. Presidential domination of Congress has been carried to the point at which revolt may be believed to be imminent unless one assumes that manhood has become as rare in the Senate as it has been shown to be in the House, says the Journal of Albany, N. Y.

Senator Brandegee of Connecticut, a conservative member of the Interstate Commerce Committee, issued a statement when the committee voted to report out the trade commission bill, in which he strongly condemned the whole anti-business policy of the administration, which he showed to be wrongly called "anti-trust."

After declaring that in view of prevailing depression and apprehension this plan for further inspection and regulation of business was a mistake, he said, among other things:

"The Federal government already controls interstate carriers through the Interstate Commerce Commission. It controls banking and currency through the Federal Reserve Board. It is now proposed that the government at Washington reach out and control all private business concerns and persons engaged in commerce among the States" through the Federal Trade Commission.

"This bill is not an anti-trust measure. Let no one lay that balm to his shattered nerves. It is a bill to investigate and afford access to private business, documents and affairs of every corporation and individual engaged in commerce among the States, and publication of whatever the commission sees fit."

Then he points out that Congress is hardly in a state of mind qualifying it to consider the so-called anti-trust programme safely:

"I do not think a worn and exasperated Congress, which has been in continuous session for more than a year, should be forced to enter upon the discussion of all these intricate and controverted questions in midsummer, on the eve of a national political campaign. I do not think the agitation and debate will tend to restore confidence few brave Democrats who with them withstood the bribery of Presidential patronage and stood by the honor and the rights of their country should be indorsed by the unanimous voice of their constituents.

PASSING OF THE CHAPERON.

Time brings change. One of the institutions that is going out along with the horse and the wind-jammer is the chaperon. It must be admitted that the chaperon of older days too often got the small end of the deal. She had to act the she-dragon when she would have much preferred to play the turtle dove. She was always a painful necessity, and she suffered for it. Present necessities are being made, like dentistry, as far as possible painless.

So what is left of the chaperon regime is mostly in the hands of young married women, as fond of frivol and flirting as their charges. On the whole, the modern chaperon has a rather good time of it. Here is but a brief rank. Even if she is older and more sedate (no woman nowadays is really either old or sedate), her duties are "bridged" over at the card table. As long as she holds good hands at auction, her young charge is free to do as she pleases, secluded and cozy corner. And society is satisfied. Indeed quite often the society bus is found in the cardroom and the chaperon tangoing merrily over the polished floor. Society is equally satisfied with either arrangement.

We have improved on the older method that curtailed the choice and freedom of unmarried girls and inflicted painful positions on their well-disposed elders. The girl that cannot be trusted to take care of herself unchaperoned is, out West, at the rate, becoming every day a rarer specimen. With their broader outlook and added self-reliance Californian girls can generally be trusted to distinguish between the desirable and the undesirable among possible masculine admirers.

The passing of the chaperon as a she-dragon of the proprieties is an unmistakable sign of mental and moral advance in the community. Parents are finding better methods of keeping track of their girls—and girls are winning increased self-reliance as a result of broader ideals.

HEREDITY.

[Strickland Gilliam, in Chicago Evening Post:] The painter Raphael was busy at work when an impetuous confrere entered hastily and said:

"You remember that forin I just borrowed from you?"

"Yes, I do. I'm surprised that you do, though."

"Well, I came to say I need another. That was insufficient to pay my lodging bill."

Raphael handed out the other forin somewhat ruefully, saying:

"I know what business your descendants should have any, will follow."

"What?" asked the impetuous one.

"Retouching old masters."

The passage of the Panama toll repeal bill is the first rift within the lute that will make the music of Democratic harmony mute.

to the distracted and drooping business of the country."

He concluded with the statement:

"I think the best service Congress can render the country is to pass the appropriation bills and adjourn, and let the country have a rest, and if possible recover its own wits."

Beyond all reasonable doubt this is the sentiment of the majority of the people of this country.

Surely there cannot be the whetting of wits of American business men which President Wilson declared to be desirable, so long as constant hostile agitation conduces to distraction.

Incidentally, it is gratifying to note that the Clayton bill, with its scandalous union-labor exemption provisions, has been referred to the Judiciary Committee of the Senate instead of being sent to the Wilsonian Interstate Commerce Committee. If the Judiciary Committee is worthy of its name, it will, even if it should report the bill, first eliminate from it the I.W.O.U. union-labor-Socialist-special-privilege provisions which the House, under the tyrannical, fear-of-votes, domination of the Gompers union labor lobby, added to it. Did not the 207 unbonced Congressmen who voted that outrage into the Clayton bill know that the union labor vote is less than 5 per cent. of the union labor enrollment of men, women, girls, boys and aliens? The Times has quoted figures and facts proving that statement more than once, without refutation.

"Still bored?" asked Psyche, as Olympus rocked with laughter.

"Best joke on the lords of creation we ever perpetrated," roared Jupiter. But Cupid had an awful stomach ache.

PSYCHE'S LITTLE FRANK.

BY ALMA WHITAKER.

"Twas dull in Olympus.
"The world is getting very stupid," sighed Jupiter, "it is time something happened."

"Hand it over to the women for a change," laughed Psyche. "Amusing to see how the other sex would run creation."

"Oh, I dare say," remarked Cupid, sarcastically. "And where do I come in?"

"Out of date, anyway, dear boy. Time you progressed. Awful little bungler!"

"Very well, Psyche, my dear, see if you can stir up some fun. Get Pluto to lend you a hand," said Jupiter, jolly old sport.

So that's how the trouble began. Psyche alone knows how it will end.

Women began losing men's respect right away. Began by shedding escorts, walking the street unprotected. Unthinkable! No decent woman would—in those days.

How long had entirely altered mode of accepting proposals of marriage. Instead of saying prettily that "I know that this is the highest compliment a man can pay a woman and I am profoundly touched at this great honor," etc., she just looked him over saucily and guessed he'd do as, anyway she would change him if she didn't like him.

Talks now about the right of selecting the father of her children—oh, Psyche! Soon started shedding petticoats—omniscient sign. When the short flannel one went, married woman's property laws came in. When the long alpaca one went, divorce was made easy and our suffrage societies were born. About this time women doctors and women lawyers took root and blossomed.

With the passing of the last petticoat the fussies were actually running in a dozen States and kicking up the dickens of a shindy in Europe.

With silk tights, slit skirts, large waists and Christabel Pankhurst, they shook off the last trammels of masculine respect—and attacked the Rokeby Venus, symbolical of man's ideal of womanly beauty.

Only a few trumpery little governments left to subside—good sport. Developing an uncomfortable sense of humor. He can't see the joke.

Has started writing to the papers to the effect that "The world is what men make it, for they stand, or should stand, for woman's ideal of purity and human virtue. And when they lower their standards woman cannot be blamed if she lowers hers. To have woman's respect man must deserve it. If he persists in showing his legs and the obvious contour of his body in this indecent manner, if he carries himself with immodest boldness, if he dresses in a manner to make him absurd and conspicuous, he cannot be surprised if feminine chivalry and respect are denied him."

Admires weeping small daughter with "Oh, fie, people will think you are a silly little boy if you cry like that!"

Gives lectures on the subject of fatherhood, indicts the shocking ignorance of young men who enter into the solemn duties of parenthood so ill-equipped for the great task. Is profoundly moved at the still more serious defalcation of the paternity shirkers. Fatherhood is the noblest calling of man, the childless husband is the scourge of the race.

Starts a journal for young gentlemen, with the aim of elevating the character of the average woman in her choice of a husband. Enlarges upon the necessity for modesty, manly dignity, true love and sweet submission. Decrees the growing boldness and vulgarity of man, regrets his obvious inferiority of the half-world. Such men can never earn the true love and protection of a good woman.

"Still bored?" asked Psyche, as Olympus rocked with laughter.

"Best joke on the lords of creation we ever perpetrated," roared Jupiter. But Cupid had an awful stomach ache.

TIGERS GAIN SECOND PLACE.

Henley Holds Sacramento to Brack of Run.

It Proves a Busy Day for "Deac" Van Buren.

Hannah Makes the Longest Throw of Season.

BY HARRY A. WILLIAMS.

They played the ball all over the old place. But for the fences, the game of activity might have been extended to Siam Junction. It ever was thus on a Monday, this day always having been set apart exclusively for pavilions.

In cleaning up the slate, the Tigers won, 3 to 2. That they should do this was important, it meaning second place for them, and the series hanging on the contest. No team likes to lose a series. This is one of the peculiarities of the game.

MUCH SLUGGING. The ball was greatly outaged, being smitten and smote at less than twenty times. The honor of knocking it about the yard was shared equally. The only difference was that the ten hits of "Deac" Henley were not concentrated enough to produce much damage.

Per contra—some word that—the Tigers not having with their hits, often scoring in concert. Gregory fopped in the second round. Walking over to Henley, he extended his hand, friendly like, and said: "Check, I think that you are the better man. Also, you are a credit to the profession. I wish you all kinds of luck. I don't think that I got enough work."

"Check" smiled sweetly, and admitted that Gregory had once been a great pitcher, and a credit to his family.

TOUGH ON KREMER. Kremer called around at the beginning of the third, thinking that possibly youth might be served. He was right, but it was served more roughly than he expected. The Tigers ripped the kid up one side and down the other, maccosted him amiships and would have knocked his block off, had they not grown arm-angled weary.

"Deacon" Van Buren wound up the day with his tongue hanging out. The old boy certainly earned his daily wage. The Tigers took a lead delight in hammering the ball out there, figuring that Van would be a trifle feeble, not having had his day of rest.

If Van had been given a bonus for every star catch that he made, he would have quit the game comfortably fixed financially. And if he had paid Van extra money for every hard try that he made, it would have been necessary to cart the cola home in a truck.

In the sixth, he came in and palmed Bliss's short fly with his left hand for one of the best catches of the season. In the seventh, he made a lunge after a triple by Bayless that left him floundering with his shoulder blades imbedded in the soil. Van pried himself loose, readjusted his joints and made a catch of McCardle's fly that brought the victory to the Tigers. In the next inning, he made a noble try for Bliss's short liner. The ball hit him on the foot, and he paused to suck his middle toe.

VAN VICTIMIZED. Van also got hit over the left kidney with a fast one in the fifth. Henley learned this stuff from "Kid" Williams. Van winced in pain after a man has passed 50, it hurts like sixty to get hit over the kidney. A person's kidneys at that age are not strong and vigorous, and do not respond kindly to harsh treatment, such as being slammed with a five-ounce mallet on a sixty-foot range. It was plain that Van's kidneys rebelled at the idea of being hit. The next time Van comes here to play ball, he should leave his kidneys in Sacramento.

While Johnny Kane didn't get hit on the kidneys, he held his own with Van in other respects. With two on in the fifth, Johnny ran in and scooped Co's fly back of second for a catch that will linger long in the memories of those who were privileged to be present.

Most of the time, however, the players showed just about enough "play" to season a fresh egg.

There were other injuries. Hannah spiked himself twice in the fourth. He then reached to first in his right shoe, took out something and threw it away. It was reported that he had cut his finger by stepping on it with his left spike.

Is He Going to "Come Back"?

TOM MORRIS COMPETITION TO BE PLAYED OFF TODAY.

Los Angeles Country Club and Annandale, Who Finished First and Second Last Year, Both Gained by the Funny System of Making an Arbitrary Par—How the Teams Will Line Up.

BY ADMA WHITAKER.

THIS is the day upon which the annual Tom Morris memorial competition takes place. Every club in the golf association is eligible, and they play in teams of eight on their own links. The Los Angeles Country Club team holds the trophy. They have won it two years running, the first team to have that honor since the trophy was inaugurated six years ago. For that reason middle western clubs, who made inferior scores to the point where comparisons became very difficult, decided Southern California must have some peculiar, if not actually cabalistic, advantage over other competitors. So the great and good Western Golf Association quoth "Ha, ha," and met in convulsions to defeat this nefarious favoritism of the gods. And they positively surprised themselves in the concoction of a set of farcical conditions, which has left the golf clubs of the whole United States rocking with laughter. The U.S.G.A., which has always regarded the W.G.A. as something of a presumptuous bobe masqued in daddy's boots, is curling a scornful lip.

Hitherto par for a golf course has been an automatic question of distance, based upon a presumption of perfect golf. It has therefore been almost a matter of a club's self-respect for par to remain pre-eminent, with the honor in favor of the player, say once or twice a year, on the most brilliant member's most brilliant day. In fact, par for the average golfer must be on the unattainable heights.

An Elastic Par. Very well, then. But today our teams will play against an arbitrary par fixed by the Western Golf Association. The par is arbitrary. It was ascertained upon the average of the five best scores made in medal play competition at each club during the last week in May—the five best scores on each individual hole. Thus if the day were a wet and soggy one and three players out of the five best did a par, 4 hole in 7 (and they need not necessarily be the best players the club contains, although these will undoubtedly be selected for the team), then 7 becomes par for that hole for today's competition. May 30 proved to be a fairly good day for all our local clubs, but even so, each of them gained several strokes. The Los Angeles team lost on two holes, but gained on five holes. Annandale had a net gain on six holes, San Gabriel on seven holes, the Virginia on seven holes.

And if this thing could happen in sunny, good-tempered Southern California, think what must have happened at those middle western clubs. Given a hurricane or a heat wave, or any of those other amusing little intrusions that make life interesting over there, it is quite conceivable that twenty strokes could be gained. A par of 41. In any case the new conditions were designed with a view to luring the trophy back Chicago-wards, and there is little doubt that they will accomplish that much. The winning team is likely to finish 29 up on par—twenty better than perfection—and the trophy has hitherto been thrown open to motorists tomorrow, also, and travel through the California playground will begin.

This assurance sets at rest all rumors among motorists that the Yosemite would be closed to cars this year. Many Southern California enthusiasts have gone north to enter the valley and found that it was closed, but their troubles are over now. The engineering department of the automobile club has prepared touring maps of the best routes to Yosemite, and hundreds are planning to make the trip from Los Angeles during the next week. June is considered by many to be the most beautiful month there, and traffic promises to be heavier than last year. The rules and regulations that the valley have been revised at Washington and will go into effect tomorrow.

SAN PEDRO TO SAN DIEGO RACE NEXT.

SUNSET YACHT CLUB TO HOLD TWO BIG RACES THIS SUMMER.

LONG BEACH, June 15.—Secret preparations are going forth for what promises to be the most interesting two-boat yacht races this summer. It leaked out yesterday that Commodore A. J. Mitchell of the Sunset Yacht Club had accepted the challenge of the San Francisco owner of the schooner Edress, and will pit his trim yawl Yankee Girl against the northerner for a run to San Diego on July 2. Big things hang on the result of this race. Besides a considerable wager, the height of which the modest Commodore does not name, a dinner is to be given the crews and guests of the two skippers by the defeated owner at San Diego. The start will be off the Long Beach pier. The preparatory gun will be fired by Dr. C. F. Mears at 8:55 and the starting gun at 9. Then five auto leads of members of the Sunset Yacht Club will sail overland for the southern port to greet the yachts when they arrive. Dr. Mears expects to fire the finish gun off Spreckels wharf, San Diego, shortly before midnight of July 2. The Edress is one of the fastest schooners which ever raced on the Coast, and many of the wise ones doubt that the trim Yankee Girl can outstrip her. Both the yachts have power galore, and the race articles provide a go-as-you-please run. With the wind as usual, the race will be an ideal one, with the wind on the quarter or a long reach to Point Loma.

A Landslide.

"PEERLESS" HAL AND FOUR OTHERS TO JUMP TO FEDS.

(BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.)

CHICAGO BUREAU OF THE TIMES, June 15.—Federal League officials are ready to make another raid on organized baseball. Word went the rounds today that five other diamond celebrities had arranged to follow in the steps of Armando Marsans and Dave Davenport, formerly of the Cincinnati Reds, who after serving ten days' notice on Garry Herrmann, proceeded to jump the traces and cast their lots with the St. Louis Federals. Prominent among the athletes said to be ready for a like move are Hal Chase, first baseman of the Chicago White Sox. Others are Ruben Benton and Leon Ames, pitchers; Tom Clark, catcher of the Cincinnati team, and Pitcher Shultz of the New York Yankees.

Official confirmation of these reports was sought in all quarters, but mystery shrouded the case of each player in question. From the stronghold of the Federals came word that the players had negotiated with agents of the third league and had decided to demand new contracts from the clubs by which they now are employed. If these demands are not granted within forty-eight hours the players will serve ten days' notice on their respective clubs, signifying their intention to jump.

Great News.

YOSEMITE VALLEY ROAD TO OPEN WEDNESDAY.

MOTORISTS can take their cars into the Yosemite Valley, tomorrow. A telegram received last night at the headquarters of the Automobile Club of Southern California from Maj. Littlebrandt assures automobile owners that the valley will be open to them Wednesday morning. Another wire states that the road from Merced into the valley will be thrown open to motorists tomorrow, also, and travel through the California playground will begin. This assurance sets at rest all rumors among motorists that the Yosemite would be closed to cars this year. Many Southern California enthusiasts have gone north to enter the valley and found that it was closed, but their troubles are over now. The engineering department of the automobile club has prepared touring maps of the best routes to Yosemite, and hundreds are planning to make the trip from Los Angeles during the next week. June is considered by many to be the most beautiful month there, and traffic promises to be heavier than last year. The rules and regulations that the valley have been revised at Washington and will go into effect tomorrow.

NO NEW PLAYERS FOR THE TIGERS.

"No changes are contemplated on the Venice club," declared President Maier yesterday. "I am fully satisfied that we have a winner."

It is true that I looked for an extra infielder when in the East, but soon became convinced that it would be impossible to get a player of the caliber wanted. The major league clubs absolutely refuse to let go of any player who is good enough for this league.

attention that they give to their business. Midwick boasts a first-class team, but mostly dilettante gentlemen of leisure who can rarely be relied upon. Therefore she is unable to put a team in the field this year notwithstanding her wealth of skill.

This last year, under Jevne's captaincy, has not seen them at their best, but the gods are careful to see that mortals have their little setbacks as they get too perky. This happened to be an off season, but that does not reflect against Jevne's captaincy in the very least. He himself is playing a first-class game just now. Macbeth is in brilliant form. Lapham has been decidedly off his game for some weeks, but he is a first-class man and will make a supreme effort today. Armstrong had period of staidness, but has picked up his propelling will power again and will play strong today. Frederickson is not playing his best perhaps, but his record makes him a valuable man on the team. E. H. Seaver, a former trans-Mississippi champion, has only just recovered from a serious illness, but he played baseball on Saturday and golf on Sunday and his skill is unimpaired if his strength holds good. J. W. Wilson is one of the steady reliable players who never "blow up," and Schneider is a brilliant player providing he is in the right mental condition.

FEDERALS MUST HAVE PLAYERS.

Can it be possible that the Chicago club has succeeded in working Hal Chase off on the Federals? Hal used to be a great first baseman. The reported sale of the Federals on the major league bears out the report that the new organization is in considerable stress. Since the novelty of having a new league was off, the attendance has been extremely pallid. The fans are not to be faulted for this. The new league is not providing major league baseball and it is up to the promoters to make good. They must have major league talent or quit. In order to save the millions already put into the venture, they must spend another million or two. It may be a last desperate sortie in the hope of forcing the majors to sue for peace.

Federal a Minor, Says Maier.

President Maier brings back from the East some first-hand dope on the new league.

"Whoever named the Feds a major league organization was a fine little humorist, and showed a keen insight into the future of baseball," said Maier. "There are a few stars, and this has served to give the league a glamour that is being rapidly dimmed as the fans go deeper, dissect the teams and get at their real merits. These so-called stars are flanked by minor league players, and a few major league 'spivs' whose names look well in print, but who are no longer much to look at on the diamond."

COAST LEAGUERS CUT DOWN LISTS.

(BY A. F. NIGHT WEBB.)

PORTLAND, June 15.—Today, the date set for reducing the Coast League teams to twenty men, found the Portland team with just the number and with one other man, signed up. The twenty-first man signed by Pitcher Miller of the defunct Fresno (California) State League) team, who will join Portland at Sacramento.

Miller will take some other Portland man's place in case he favorably impresses Manager McCreedy there. The Oakland team, which has twenty-one men, must let one go. Pitcher Ramsey of the Oakland team was sold to the Salt Lake Union Association team Saturday night.

MUCH EXCITEMENT AT POUCHKEEPSIE.

(BY A. F. NIGHT WEBB.)

POUGHKEEPSIE (N. Y.), June 15.—An invitation to several of the crews to row next year's regatta at the Panama-Pacific Exposition at San Francisco, and the saving of two men from drowning by Coach "Jim" Rice of the Columbia squad, were developments today in the college rowing season along the Hudson River.

The invitation to row next year's regatta was announced by the regatta manager, A. Ralph Horr of the Washington crew, and was extended to the Cornell, Columbia and Pennsylvania squads. Coach Nickalls of Pennsylvania said he favored the proposition, but Coaches Rice of Columbia and Courtney of Cornell, said that "if they will pay all expenses and then give the boys good jobs after they get through out there," the offer might be considered.

MOTHER GIVES
LOVE TO DEAD.Letter to Newlyweds Comes After Wife's Death.Fire Department Inquiry Is
Up in the Air.Bomb on Track of Santa Fe; Prank of Boys?

(LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.)

PASADENA, June 15.—The full forgiveness of a mother-in-law for a marriage that was made against her wishes and for which she disinherited her son, came just a few days too late to bring happiness to Mrs. Isabelle A. Anstey, No. 632 Franklin avenue, who died at the Good Samaritan Hospital in Los Angeles last Wednesday while giving birth to a child, which also now lies in Mountain View cemetery.

The young woman's mother-in-law, who lives in Victoria, B. C., had previously written several letters to her son indicative of a reconciliation, but the one that did not arrive until the eyes which were to peruse it had closed for an eternal sleep contained nothing but words of kindness and love for the prospective mother and the little one she was to bring into the world.

George Roy Anstey, the son and husband, buried his wife and child last Friday and a few days later read the letter that sped all too slowly. He is now himself on his way to Canada to seek solace in his mother's arms.

The romance that ended so tragically began last August, when the husband, who is a printer, but who claims to be a direct descendant of King Edward III of England, and who hopes to inherit a fortune of his own, brought his young bride, who was Miss Isabelle Smith, home from San Diego. His mother, who is reputed to be wealthy, promptly disinherited him for crossing her in so doing, and left the young couple to their own devices, until reconciled by the coming of the little stranger.

BOMB HOYS PRANK?

While walking along the Santa Fe tracks between Elm and North Lake avenues, F. J. Catto of No. 735 Olive-wood court last night came upon a bomb constructed of a piece of gas pipe and with a long fuse, which had been lighted. It lay on a tie near one of the rails and he had almost stepped upon it before he saw the sparks from the fuse.

He quickly ground out the fire with the heel of his shoe and stepped back some distance, not being sure that it would not explode. No explosion resulted and he notified the police, who secured it.

An examination at the police station showed that the bomb was filled with black powder. The pipe is about six inches long and is sealed on one end with a metal cap and stopped up at the other with a paper wad.

The police believe that it had been placed on the track by boys for a prank, as its explosion could not have done much damage unless the pipe should have burst and a fragment of it hit some passer-by. The point at which it was placed on the track is near the McCreey lumber yard.

place at the City Hall at 1:30 o'clock tomorrow afternoon, it is probable that the members of that organization will not, after all, take any part in it.

The City Commission has put its foot down on the proposition that the inquiry to be made shall not extend to a time prior to its assumption of office. This has led some of the members of the Taxpayers' Protective Association to declare that it will be an investigation, and that they will have nothing to do with it. It is their contention that the way in which the Hotel Maryland fire was fought is not the entire purpose of their efforts. They want to secure testimony pertaining to other and previous fires as well.

The Commissioners declare that, notwithstanding the dissatisfaction, the investigation will be made at the appointed time.

AUTO TURNS OVER.

Former City Councilman F. M. Shurt and J. B. Green of Long Beach returned to Pasadena yesterday much battered and bruised, with word of a spectacular accident in which they barely escaped death near Tehachepi several days ago.

While they were descending a hill the brakes of the automobile in which they were riding gave way and the car made a half-raising dash for the bottom. It kept the road for a while and then shot over an embankment and after turning over, landed nose downward on the hard ground.

The car was partly wrecked and the men returned to Pasadena on the train.

WILL SAVE THE VINES.

Orders were issued to a force of workmen who set to work yesterday tearing down the ruins and removing the debris of the Hotel Maryland not to injure any of the vines. The Maryland was famous for the vines that nearly covered its walls and expert gardeners have declared that most of them are still living, though the roots were nearly cooked. The plans for the new building are to be drawn in such a manner that the vines will be in place for its walls, and the west wing, which is practically covered with vines and was only burned out on the inside, will be incorporated in the new building.

LONG BEACH, June 15.—Although the Mayor and Civil Service Commission have agreed to eliminate from civil service rules the appointment of a police chief in order that the Mayor's appointee, Sam Brown, may be made permanent chief, C. H. Windham declared that the step was but another in the long series of illegal moves of the Mayor, and that he would fight the payment of money to an ineligible police chief through the Supreme Court.

Any attempt of the Council to pay the demands for salary or expenses of Chief Brown will be met by an injunction, says Mr. Windham. He says he is in the fight to the finish, as the organic law of the city, which he helped to frame, as a member of the former freholder board, is being violated.

The former Mayor states that Mr. Whelan cannot appoint even a temporary officer who is ineligible under the charter. The only temporary officer who may be appointed is one of fine technical ability, such as an engineer.

INVESTIGATE
FATAL WRECK.Wooden Diner Said to Have Been on Limited.State Commission Has Hand in Inquest Today.Compensation Act Isn't for Railway Employee.

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.)

SAN BERNARDINO, June 15.—An investigation will be held tomorrow by the State Railroad Commission and the Coroner's jury of the report that the Santa Fe was using a wooden dining car on the California Limited, which was wrecked at Bagdad, Friday night.

The investigation will be held in connection with the inquest into the deaths of B. M. Cram and Charles W. Beldin, who were in the diner when the collision occurred. Most of the injured were also in the diner.

The steel buffet car, immediately ahead of the dining car, telescoped almost the entire length of the diner. The inquest will be held at Upland, at the home of E. P. Fuller, County Coroner.

NO COMPENSATION.

A decision of the State Industrial Accident Commission was received here today, upholding the Southern Pacific's contention that one of its employees who was accidentally shot while on duty was engaged in interstate commerce and not subject to the California workmen's compensation act.

George W. Smith, special officer, was accidentally shot while attempting to arrest trespassers, who were trying to board an interstate train at Colton, near here.

The railroad officials regard the decision as a victory for the company, as they believe it releases the railroad from responsibility for injuries to the bulk of its employees, in that they have to do with the handling of interstate traffic, freight or passenger.

PLAN GREAT PAGEANT
FOR NEXT ORANGE SHOW.

(LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.)

SAN BERNARDINO, June 15.—A great pageant, portraying the history of the San Bernardino Valley from the Indian rule, through the Franciscan, Spanish and Mormon epochs, will be produced on a lavish scale at the Imperial Valley Fair, which is in its city next February. Plans for this year's pageant are being made today and will continue until Saturday afternoon.

J. L. Gillis, State Librarian, is president of the organization. Miss Victoria Ellis of Long Beach is vice-president, and Alice J. Haines of Oakland, secretary-treasurer.

The Pacific Slope.

SUMMARY OF THE DAY.
A report made to the Mayor yesterday by Chief Inspector of Buildings Backus shows that for eleven months of the present fiscal year forty-five miles of building frontage have been provided for.

Councilman Conwell started a movement yesterday to provide vacation and Saturday half-holidays during July, August and September, for 1375 men in the city's employ on daily-wage scale.

The Mayor announced yesterday that today he will send a letter to Martin Bekins, asking him to resign from the Public Utilities Commission. Bekins has attended but nine meetings of the board in seven months.

The City Attorney has decided that the Council has no authority to prevent the erection of the new Florence Crittenton Home at Avenue 13, and Graham street.

The names of the other women dropped out in two divorce suits yesterday. The defendants in both cases are well known men.

A wife who was sent by her husband to this city in exile, is puzzled by his strange action. He is in the County Jail under bonds and a writ of habeas corpus was sworn out, argued before Judge Willis, and submitted.

MANY MILES OF NEW BUILDINGS.

SUPERINTENDENT REPORTS ON YEAR'S ACTIVITIES.

Shows that Nearly Thirteen Thousand Permits for Structures Have Been Issued Within Eleven Months, With Valuation of Almost Twenty-three Million Dollars.

While the present fiscal year may not shine so brilliantly when its building record is compared with the city's most active periods, the showing made for the current fiscal year to date when viewed by itself is gratifying and shows that Los Angeles has made a remarkable advance.

Chief Building Inspector Backus filed with the Mayor and Board of Public Works yesterday a report of the activities of his department for this period of time. This shows that forty-five miles of new building frontage has been constructed during less than the twelve months.

During the fiscal year to date there have been 12,157 permits issued for construction, the valuation of which is $22,600,092. During this same period there were issued 24,902 permits for the installation of sanitary plumbing, gas piping, construction of cesspools and sewers, which do not appear in the above valuation. The building department has made approximately 200,000 inspections of buildings during this period.

The fees received by the building department for the eleven months of the year already elapsed have amounted to $27,250.10.

During the year the department has proceeded with a number of building ordinances, but its policy has been to obtain the desired results through persuasion rather than prosecution and its efforts in this line have been very successful.

HALF-HOLIDAYS FOR CITY LABORERS.

Councilman Conwell initiated a movement yesterday that gives prospect of the 1375 men employed by the city on daily wages getting regular vacation and Saturday half-holidays during July, August and September. The city has 2250 employees on monthly salary and these are all allowed Saturday afternoons during the entire year. Conwell urged that in simple justice to the men on the day-wage scale they should have half-holidays on Saturdays during the summer months.

He presented a resolution setting forth the situation and requesting the efficiency department to submit to the Council a complete statement of existing conditions, together with a systematic plan for vacation periods and for Saturday half-holidays for all employees, so far as such arrangement can be made without detriment to the public service.

The men who have not heretofore had the advantage of the half-holiday include those of the force of teamsters, street sweepers, park laborers, garbage collectors, street repair men and others.

ABSENT TREATMENT.

BEGINS TO "GET HIS."

Martin Bekins, member of the Board of Public Utilities, who has attended only nine sessions of the board meetings in the past seven months, and who consistently has been absent when all important rate-fixing matters were under discussion, will be asked by Mayor Rose today to tender his resignation.

More than a week ago the Mayor declared publicly that if Bekins had a sense of the proprieties and of his duties to his official position he would immediately tender his resignation. Bekins is a member of the Public Utilities Commission. This never feigned Bekins. Now the Mayor states that he will make a formal demand upon Bekins for his resignation today and if it is not forthcoming he will remove Bekins.

WOULD USE STRIP.

PARK OR DRAINAGE WAY.

Notwithstanding the fact that the Park Commission has declared against the use of a long and narrow strip of land between Verdugo road and the railroad tracks for park purposes, and the Public Welfare Committee of the City Council is inclined to take the same point of view, the property owners of the district do not propose to let the subject drop. They will appear before the Public Welfare Committee next Monday to urge that the project be given serious consideration.

The statement is made that Andrew Glassell has offered to donate to the city the lots he owns within the proposed park area, and the property owners ask that an assessment district be formed to acquire the remainder of the land. They declare that it is too low to be suitable for residence purposes, but would make a good park or a waterway for the drainage from the hills of the district, and that the neighborhood is threatened with an in-

CRITTENTON HOME.

BUILDING MAY PROCEED.

Property owners on the East Side who object to the erection of the new Florence Crittenton Home at Avenue 13 and Graham street, were before the Public Welfare Committee again yesterday to continue their protests. The announcement was made, however, that the City Attorney had submitted an opinion that the weight of authority is strongly against there being any right vested in the city to prevent the erection of a maternity hospital at this location. Various decisions are cited to show that even though persons seeking a restraining injunction should suffer direct injury to their property or their senses of refinement by reason of the erection of such a home in their midst, they would not be entitled to the restraining order unless it is conclusively shown that the institution was to be run so as to constitute a nuisance. Upon the request of the protesters, however, the committee continued the subject for one week. Next Monday the protesters will undertake to present arguments to refute the advice given by the city's legal counsel.

BILLBOARD ORDINANCE.

ITS PROVISIONS DISCUSSED.

The Public Welfare Committee at its session yesterday discussed the latest draft of the proposed billboard ordinance and continued the consideration for one week.

It is proposed to base the license fees on billboards on the rate of one-half cent per square foot. The limit of the billboard's height is to be placed at eleven feet six inches, which is to include the moldings. The boards must set back from the street lines a distance equal to the house nearest the street in the block.

No change proposed in the licensing men who tack up posters and handbills. They will pay $100 per year. It is proposed, however, that each operator of this class of business must have his own imprint on each piece of advertising posted, and the police department must remove all such advertising matter that does not bear the imprint of a licensed concern.

MAY BE VACANCY ON POLICE COMMISSION.

The announcement of Vincent Morgan in yesterday afternoon's papers of his candidacy for the position of District Attorney caused Mayor Wilson to state that if Morgan realizes the fitness of things and has a due sense of the proprieties, he will at once tender his resignation as a member of the Police Commission. The Mayor stated that he believes it will be apparent to all that a candidate for this position should not retain a position on the Police Commission. The Mayor is an avowed supporter of Joseph Ford for District Attorney.

City Hall Briefs.

The City Council voted yesterday to begin the vacation leave of absence by granting such leave for fifteen days to Councilmen Conwell and Snowden.

The harbor department will realize several thousand dollars during the year from the payment of 5 cents a ton by the Southern Pacific to the city for hauling freight over the municipal tracks leading from the Morrison Island channel wharf to the company's lines.

The Mayor stated yesterday that until the final opinion is received from the bond expert firm of Thompson, Dill & Clay on the validity of the power bonds, he will not sign the resolution passed by the City Council, authorizing the engraving of $1,432,000 worth of bonds.

The Council voted yesterday to appropriate $450 for the construction of a storm drain in One Hundred and Eighty-sixth street.

Appropriations were made by the Council yesterday to aid the Fourth of July celebrations. The Playground Commission is to receive $50 each for six of the public playgrounds, where neighborhood celebrations will be held and $1000 was given to the National Guards to aid them in the national celebration to be held in Exposition Park.

Announcement was made to the Council yesterday that the Budget Committee has included in the new budget an item of $1000 for an appropriation to aid the National River and Harbor Congress. This organization has been of much aid to Los Angeles in securing liberal appropriations for harbor development.

OTHER WOMAN'S NAME GIVEN.

BROUGHT OUT WHEN DIVORCE SUIT IS CALLED.

Wife Accuses Wealthy Inventor With Misconduct and He's Fighting Charges, but Must Pay Hundred Dollars Monthly—Mrs. Bumiller Is Granted a Decree.

The name of the other woman in the Gay divorce suit dropped out when the case was called in Judge Monroe's court in alimony proceedings yesterday. A portion of the complaint which was filed by the wife, Mrs. Julia Gay, was read by her attorneys for the purpose of amendment, and it contained the respondent's name.

The other woman is Miss Harriet K. Churchill, C. M. Gay, a contracting engineer, is charged by Mrs. Gay with misconduct. He is represented by Attorneys Hunaker & Britt. Attorneys Joseph F. Waterman and Preserves are counsel for Mrs. Gay.

Mr. Gay is fighting his wife's charges. Yesterday he presented the court with a list of his real estate holdings which appear to be extensive. He told the court he is earning $200 a month, and was ordered to pay his wife pending the trial of the divorce suit $100 a month.

He is an inventor, having patented the pre-cooling car.

GIVES A DECREE.

MISCONDUCT SHOWN.

The ways parted for Joseph F. Bumiller, real estate operator, and his wife, Eckie B. Bumiller, yesterday, when Judge Monroe granted the latter a decree of divorce, awarded her $250 a month alimony, the custody of the children, Josephine, Carolyn, Dorothy and Ellen, both three-fifths of his stock in the San Vicente Land Company, and a deed to real estate, including the home place at No. 711 North Hampton.

Mr. Bumiller did not defend him-

WOMAN AN EXILE.

SHE ALLEGES IN COURT.

The case of Warren B. Wilson, formerly a "Young Men's" drugist, who sought to be released from the County Jail yesterday on a writ of habeas corpus, has proved puzzling to his wife, who alleges that she was exiled to this city three years ago. The facts in the possession of Attorney Sweet, who is representing her, tend to show that Warren sent her here from Las Vegas in 1911, saying he would follow there.

After many weary weeks of waiting she encountered him on the street and commenced action for maintenance. Judge Monroe ordered him to pay $40 a month for the support of Mrs. Wilson and their boy, 7 years of age. Wilson paid $40 and once more was released. The wife was dropped out of sight, it is alleged.

In July, 1912, he unexpectedly appeared at the office of Attorney Sweet. Mr. Sweet says he would not give an account of himself, but offered $500 cash and a house and lot in Las Vegas for the benefit of his wife. The offer was refused. It was later discovered that the Las Vegas property was not worth more than $100.

Again Wilson disappeared, and Mr. Sweet secured no trace of him until last week, when he was found at a ranch in Tulare county. He was brought here and placed under $2000 bonds, and in default he was committed. The habeas corpus writ was argued before Judge Willis yesterday and submitted.

Wilson is supposed to have cleaned up a tidy sum by disposing of his Las Vegas drug store. Mrs. Wilson is at a loss to know why she was exiled.

CHICKENS IT IS.

GIVEN FOR WIFE'S BENEFIT.

"Where did you get the money to pay your attorney?" Judge Monroe asked Mortimer C. Hogue, a ranchman, in alimony proceedings yesterday.

"I sold a cow," was the reply.

"Well, it's a cow for a cow," said the court. "Can't you sell another cow for the benefit of your wife?"

"No, but I can give her the chickens," Mr. Hogue's offer.

"Chickens it is," stated the court.

The Hogue was married at Kansas City May 6, 1902. Mr. Hogue was ordered to pay his wife, Winnie H. Hogue, $20 a month pending the trial of the divorce proceedings.

BYRNES'S DEFENSE.

ON GRAND LARCENY CHARGE.

The defense opened yesterday in the case of J. W. Byrnes, on trial before a jury in Judge Finlayson's court, charged with grand larceny. The prosecution closed with strong evidence. Deputy District Attorney Byrnes believes, connecting Byrnes not only with the fake "Seneca" pool, operated in February, 1913, but also with the poolroom at Hermosa Beach conducted there previously.

This was done through the testimony of J. A. Torline, a Sperryville (Kan.) farmer, who testified he had worked on Byrnes's ranch, in the San Fernando Valley, and identified a receipt for money paid him by Byrnes dated February 24, 1912. He said that he had seen Byrnes on ranch on the day previous to the trial.

L. P. Ruiz, a cement worker, and Luis Garcia, who had also worked for Byrnes, testified that Byrnes was on his ranch February 24, 1912, and relied upon the receipt as fixing the time, and the other witnesses apparently under cross-examination were not particularly positive as to other days. George Boren said he had seen Byrnes in San Bernardino in February, 1913, which was about four months employment with the Diamond. Byrnes became dissatisfied and left without the usual thirty days' notice.

DEGREE DENIED. Judge Monroe yesterday denied a decree in the separate maintenance suit of Mrs. Marion S. Wells against Edward L. Wells whom she alleged made life with him unbearable by reason of cruelty in language and intoxication. On one occasion she testified she surprised Mr. Wells at his third-story rooming house hugging and kissing a girl employee. When Mrs. Wells remonstrated, she said, he "bawled" her out. Mr. Wells denied the charges, taking the stand in his own defense and stating that he was never incapacitated from transacting business by reason of drink, as his wife had testified.
